

Five Things to Know for Early October

Legislation:

President Trump has signed into law the bipartisan Federal Aviation Administration Reauthorization Act of 2018, which includes a number of key reforms to protect the rights of disabled airline passengers and resolve some of the myriad issues that disabled passengers encounter at the airport and on the airplane. <http://www.newmobility.com/2018/10/major-airline-accessibility-reforms-signed-into-law/>

Resource: Transition Planning

Transition planning officially begins between the ages of 14 and 16 for most students with an IEP. However, the process is lifelong. This section of National Technical Assistance Center on Transition's (NTACT) website provides resources and tools to guide the process of transition planning - encompassing assessment and skill development to plan for success beyond school. Resources to guide Transition Planning from elementary into post-secondary. Includes guidance documents and frameworks: <https://transitionta.org/transitionplanning>

Employment: Data Dashboard

The California Developmental Disabilities System Employment Data Dashboard presents the most recent data on how well California is doing in implementing its Employment First Policy, supporting people to have jobs in their communities making at competitive wages: https://scdd.ca.gov/employment_data_dashboard/

Social Security: 2018 Red Book

The Social Security Administration has released the 2018 Red Book, a resource guide to support individual with disabilities who want to work and are receiving SSI and/or SSDI benefits. The Red Book is written in plain English (a Spanish version is also available) and includes resources, employment support programs for beneficiaries who are receiving SSI and/or SSDI as well as young adults who are transitioning to adulthood, work incentives, benefits planning, and ABLE accounts. Copies of the 2018 Red Book and other Social Security publications are available on request. <https://www.ssa.gov/redbook/>
